1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the claims recite method of determining a reflective surface of a reflector used in a vehicle lamp comprising, setting basic conditions - light source position, optical axis, reflective surface outline, setting segmentation conditions – segmentation axis, number of segments, setting reflection conditions – reflection angles, solid angle conditions, determining surface shape of reflective surface – segment inside of reflective surface outline generate plurality of reflection regions & create surface shape of segment surface for each reflection region. Because none of the reference cited disclose the detailed method of determining a reflective surface of a reflector, nor is there any motivation to combine specific methods, the claims are deemed patentable over the prior art of record. Claims 1-3, & 5 are allowed.
